'Morally Wrong'

Students To Lose Examination File

By BOB CROWE

A ten-year student aid program walked out of the Library yesterday in the arms of Dr. Andrew P. Lassen, head of the Economics and Geography Department, and chairman of the college Fairness Committee.

The armload consisted of the examination file that had been available in the Library to show students what might be expected from an instructor in an examination.

The removal of the file was the result of a query instituted by the Fairness Committee that questioned faculty members as to the advisability or desirability of maintaining such a project.

Of the 181 replies received, 77 recommended against the file with remarks such as "crutch," "spoon feeding," "ineffective," and "gimmick."

Perhaps the major criticism by the faculty was that the idea of studying an examination for the purpose of taking another examination was morally wrong, according to Dr. Lassen.

He reported that the majority of the instructors, 121 of them, felt that good teaching should include taking plenty of time in class to explain the nature of a forthcoming test.

The possibility of continuing the file, Dr. Lassen explained, was dropped when only 32 faculty members indicated they would take part in setting up and continuing an effective library file.

STUDENTS' QUESTIONS

In searching for ways to aid the student in preparation for an examination, some instructors felt that the students should submit questions which could be used. Others suggested that "pilot" copies of exams could be placed on protected bulletin boards in the departmental areas.

The latter idea was suggested to do away with the pilferage problem in the library which resulted in some professors replacing their contributions as often as once a month.

In their revision of page 45 of the Staff Reference Book, the Fairness Committee stated "... the file of examination questions has been discontinued ... instructors are urged to take adequate time in class to explain forthcoming examinations and to suggest ways to prepare for it."

In its recommendations, the committee suggested that the examination files maintained by fraternities are "more effective in arousing envy than in raising scholastic efficiency."

Possibly the crux of the situation might lie in the tale told by Dr. Lassen. "Immediately after I removed the files from the library for return to the contributors, I was told that a coed asked for a copy of an examination. When she was told that the file had been discontinued, she commented, 'Oh shucks, now I'll have to read the textbook.'"

Dr. Gould Remains On 'Critical' List; Talks With Wife

Condition of Dr. William E. Gould, professor of journalism, still was listed as "critical" late last night, although he told his wife by telephone yesterday that "I feel much better."

The 54-year-old ex-newman suffered a heart attack early Sunday, after a week-long illness which at first was diagnosed as a stroke, but which could have had a connection with his previous heart condition, Mrs. Gould told the Spartan Daily yesterday.

Dr. Gould suffered a coronary in spring 1957.

SJS' KOED Broadcasts Tonight at 8

A 15-minute newscast will be televised tonight at 8 o'clock over San Jose State's KOED closed-circuit TV facilities.

Presented by the Journalism 150 class, a beginning course in radio-television news writing, the program will be viewed by members of Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism.

International and national news from the wires of United Press International will comprise a good portion of the program.

Film sequences taken on campus will be shown, along with filmed material from the Red Cross. Feature items and local news will be covered, along with the latest word in sports and weather.

Freshman Wins Twirling Honors

Mona Rae Morgan, 17-year-old freshman, won the senior state baton-twirling championship Sunday, after competing with 100 contestants.

Miss Morgan will represent California in the national championship contest Feb. 1 in St. Paul, Minn.

GAVEL AND ROSTRUM

Elected Officers Take Oath In '59

The Juniors' top spot was one of three left vacant after last week's ASB election because there were no candidates.

An election will be held at the next class meeting following Christmas vacation. However, nominations may be reopened if another qualified candidate turns up, according to Carol Young, publicity chairman.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore Council discussed plans for the Soph-Frosh Mixer scheduled for Jan. 11 in the Women's Gym. Skip Fisk is general chairman of the mixer. Bob McKeown is in charge of tickets, Stefani Cecil, refreshments, Martha Allhouse, entertainment and Lisa Gray, decorations.

FRESHMEN

The Freshman Class has adopted a needy family for Christmas. A box will be put in the Student Union near the receptionist's desk and all freshmen are urged to help fill it up with canned food, toys and clothes, according to Gayle Reese, publicity chairman. The needy family consists of 15 children, ranging in age from one to 15 years.

SENIORS

The Senior Class did not meet yesterday.

Men's P.E. Group Publishes First Newsletter Edition

Issue number one of "Physical Education News," new quarterly newsletter of Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's physical education fraternity, made its appearance last week.

The "News" was mailed to 475 physical education alumni as part of the SJS Alumni Assn.'s new plan to bring the alumni of each individual department into closer touch with each other.

The P.E. fraternity did the actual writing of the newsletter, with Ken Roed serving as editor. Roed, executive secretary of the alumni association, also had charge of publishing and mailing the newsletter.

Included in the new paper are stories and features about members of the SJS athletic staff, complete sports schedules and news briefs on late happenings in the P.E. Department.

Roed said the next issue will be in February, with another to follow in May.

Officials Prepare SJS Grant Requests

San Jose State College is preparing applications asking for a share of the 1958 National Defense Education Act's $9 million.

Eight SJS officials are preparing applications under provisions of the act which would facilitate grants for student loans, science, mathematics, modern languages, graduate fellowships, guidance, counseling, testing, radio, television and vocational education.

The aim of the multi-million dollar authorization, according to the act, is "to provide substantial assistance in various forms in sufficient quantity to meet the national defense needs of the United States."

Each application will be filed with act officials in Washington, D.C. by SJS coordinators. The first, to be sent by Dec. 31, will be in the field of student loans.

Miss Margaret Harper, AWS adviser, will coordinate this section. The college will apply for grants to be given to needy graduates and undergraduates in the above fields.

If the student loan fund is accepted by national officials, it will mean loans will be available for the Spring semester, 1959.

Loans will be available to full-time students, preferably those possessing superior academic backgrounds and expressing a desire to teach in elementary or secondary schools. Also students who show superiority in mathematics, science, engineering or modern languages will be considered. Up to $5000 can be loaned a student during his entire time of study.

Interested students may contact William Diddoway, campus coordinator of the project or Miss Harper.

Under provisions of the act, one-ninth of any grant made to individual schools must be matched by the school.

SJS coordinators and the fields they will apply for are:

Miss Harper, student loans; Dean Joe West, workshops in science, mathematics and foreign language; Dr. James Brown, fellowships for doctoral candidates; Dr. John Barr, guidance and counseling in the secondary schools; Dr. Wesley Goddard, foreign languages and foreign culture; Dr. Richard Lewis, audio-visual programs; Dr. Heber Sotzin, vocational education; and Dr. Wilber Sprain, National Science Foundation.

New Club Seeks SJS Recognition

Student Council is expected tomorrow to recognize another campus organization—the San Jose State Marketing Club.

The application for recognition was tabled at last week's meeting, in order for Council members to read and study the application.

Council also is expected to appoint tomorrow an editor for "Spartan from the Start," campus booklet. So far, however, no applications have been turned in for the position.

Students may pick up applications either from the ASB Secretary's desk in the Student Union or in Admin. 269. Applicants, if there are any, will be interviewed by Council members prior to their meeting.

Student Court, with the newly-appointed prosecuting attorney, Milton von Damm, will meet today at 2:30 in the Student Union.

DU'S 'NEW DOOR'

Delta Upsilon may not have its "new house" on 11th Street but the fraternity has a new door—as a matter of fact two of them. (The annex door is hidden.) DU constructed the doors last week-end to meet competition in the Fraternity Door Christmas Decoration contest, sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi. Judging is scheduled for tomorrow.

No Smog on This Campus!

With winter only five days away ... there's the freshness of spring in San Jose State campus air.

Filters in the nearly 600 campus ventilators are in the process of being cleaned or replaced.

Ventilators in nearly all SJS buildings will receive either a fiber glass "dust stop" filter or have their oil filters cleaned.

According to Charles Krusensky, stationary engineer with the Maintenance and Operations shop, there will be approximately 350 new fiber glass filters, replaced every three months, and 200 clean oil filters on campus soon.

'No Retreat For West'

Russia Promises East Germany War Aid

By United Press International
BERLIN—The Soviet bloc yesterday promised military aid to East Germany if it gets into a war with the West.

The pledge came after East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht hinted that Eastern forces would invade the West if East Germany is attacked.

The warning accompanied new Communist threats that a Western allied attempt to run a new Berlin blockade would be met by Soviet action by land, sea and air.

BEIRUT, Lebanon — A stone-throwing mob yesterday smashed the windows of U.S. Assistant Secretary of State William C. Rountree's car in Baghdad, a traveler reported on his arrival here from Baghdad. The Iraqi army sneaked Rountree out of Baghdad airport through a back entrance to avoid thousands of demonstrators shouting, "Go home dirty Rountree."

There is no confirmation of the report because communications between Beirut and Baghdad have been severed for more than a day.

MONEY FUND RUNS DRY

SACRAMENTO—State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood, admitting that the state's general fund is dry, told Gov. Goodwin J. Knight yesterday the state will have to borrow $60 million from other funds to tide it through December.

He pointed out that state expenditures from the general fund have been exceeding revenue for some time and there is no money to pay $49 million in school apportionments and $15 million in county social welfare payments.

WANTS BALANCED BUDGET

WASHINGTON—Senate Republican leaders were told today that President Eisenhower is shooting for a balanced budget in the next fiscal year, but that it may run a little higher than this year's $79,200,000,000.

The President and GOP Congressional leaders met in a day-long session yesterday to discuss the administration's big legislative package for the 1959 session of Congress.

SUN SYMBOL OF HOLIDAY

Handel Wrote 'Messiah' in 1741; Took Him 24 Days To Finish

By ESTELLA COX

George Frederic Handel (whose name is spelled at least 15 different ways) composed the "Messiah's" 265 pages of choral and orchestral score in 24 days—Aug. 22 to Sept. 14, 1741.

This masterpiece was a spiritual and emotional release for Handel's rejection by London aristocracy, his bankruptcy and physical paralysis.

For 30 years he had written operas which pleased audiences in Rome and London... now, after a political split and dwindled interest in opera, he was broken and depressed.

Handel possessed a staunch determination to succeed and thus changed his style of musicianship to the concert oratorio (contrasted with the oratorio for religious devotion and liturgical).

Charles Jennens, friend to Handel through thick and thin, wrote the scriptural libretto for the "Messiah."

The words relate prophecy, reflections and doctrines of Christianity. They're not written as parts of a drama nor do they relive only the Passion.

First performance of the Messiah was in a music hall on Fishamble Street, Dublin, Ireland, on April 13, 1742. Handel agreed to a charity performance upon the request of the Duke of Devonshire.

A public rehearsal was conducted and a later announcement made that women should come without hoops and men without swords to increase seating capacity.

"I needed not sell one single ticket at the door, and without Vanity the Performance was received with general approbation," Handel wrote Jennens.

Thirty orchestra member played strings, oboes, bassoons, trumpets and drums. Soloists were Signora Avolio, Mrs. Maclaine, Mrs. Cibber and male voices from the two Dublin churches which provided the chorus.

Handel conducted from the harpsichord.

Seven hundred persons attended the concert, and 400 pounds were obtained for the "poor, distressed prisoners" of Dublin.

IN ENGLAND

London's first performance of the "Messiah" was given under the title, "A Sacred Oratorio." Conducted in the Covent Garden Theater, the concert was not a success.

'Christmas Time Can Be Season To Give Oneself'

By ESTELLA COX

Christmas is or should be a time of giving, giving of yourself for the profit of others rather than a time of getting and exploiting.

That first Christmas God gave His Son who became flesh to give himself "for the life of the world."

A sacrifice was made and a gift offered.

CHRIST GAVE

Christ gave himself, his teachings, his healings, his compassion for others.

In years since what have men given for the life of the world about them? What have they contributed to the betterment of civilization?

Not everyone can be a great artist, musician, composer, dramatist, author or public opinion leader—but some persons can. No one knows who these will be.

What one gives need not be philosophical, religious, or idealistic. Human beings make practical innovations and reforms or else the Western society would never be the dynamo it is.

CONTRIBUTION

One's contribution to humanity or his environment is an extension of himself. It is anything he can discipline himself to give. Surely all men do not plan a life of bumhood.

Of course, all students at San Jose State cannot and will not be a Van Gogh, Mozart, Irene Dalis, Arthur Miller, Joseph Pulitzer, Abraham Lincoln, Cecil De Mille or a jillion and one other personalities who have given of themselves.

We can, however, aim at a particular gift or a part of ourselves to leave with our associates and maybe the world.

Founding Hospital, to which Handel gave a copy of his score.

King George II and his court were first to stand on their feet in admiration of the "Hallelujah" chorus.

Today's "Messiah" is a revision of words and arrangements by Handel and successive conductors.

George Frederic Handel, who never married, was born Feb. 23, 1685 and died Feb. 14, 1759.

In this Holy season he lives in his "gift to the poor and oppressed of this world."

Art Depicts Many Things Says Student

Editors Note:

Nick Peters, sophomore commercial art major, offers his impression of a Christmas symbol:

By NICK PETERS

Words say many things. Sometimes they make their point; sometimes they do not. Words are expressed differently by different people of different countries. But art is a universal language.

I feel nothing more vividly expresses one's feelings than a picture. With words the desired meaning is obvious. But by making an expression through art and the use of symbols the artist allows the viewer to make his own interpretation.

Words are limited. They have their set meaning. Pictures, on the other hand, are for you to interpret as you like. What the artist sees and what you see may be totally different.

Your symbol for Christmas may be the holly wreath, the mistletoe, the Christmas tree, the Star of David.

As for me, I choose the sun—my symbol of life, reality, our universal heritage—a new day.

I give you this, the sunburst, my symbol of Christmas. A new day, 25 December, 1958.

The exact day and year of Christ's birth have never been satisfactorily settled, but in 340 A.D., fathers of the church chose the day of winter solstice which was firmly fixed in the minds of people and which was their most important festival.

ADVENTURES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE: NO. 1

"The proper study of mankind is man," said Geoffrey Chaucer in his immortal Canterbury Tales, and I couldn't agree more. In these tangled times it is particularly proper to study man—how he lives and works. Accordingly, this column, normally devoted to slapdash waggery, will from time to time turn a serious eye on the social sciences.

In making these occasional departures, I have the hearty approval of the makers of Philip Morris Cigarettes, whose interest is not only in providing young Americans with fine cigarettes, matchlessly blended of vintage tobaccos, grown with loving care and harvested with tender mercy, then cured with compassionate patience and rolled into firm tasty cylinders and brought to you in long size or regular, in soft pack or flip-top box; at prices which wreak no havoc on the most stringent of budgets, but who are equally concerned with broadening the minds and extending the intellectual vistas of every college man and woman!

I, for one, am not unmoved by this great-heartedness, and though I know it is considered chic these days to disparage one's employers, I shall not. Indeed, I shall cry "Huzzah!" for the makers of Philip Morris. I shall cry "Huzzah!" and "Viva!" and "Ole!" and "Ochichoonya!"

But I digress. For our first lesson in social science, let us turn to economics, often called the queen of the social sciences. (Sociology is the king of the social sciences. Advertising is the jack.)

Economics breaks down into two broad general classifications: (1) coins; (2) folding money. But before taking up these technical aspects, let us survey briefly the history of economics.

Economics was discovered by the Englishman, Adam Smith. He published his findings in 1786, and everybody, giggled so hard that Smith, blushing hotly, gave up the whole thing and went into the cough drop business with his brother.

For long years after that economics lay neglected while the world busied itself with other things, like the birth of Victor Hugo, the last days of Pompeii, and the Bunny Hug.

Then one day while flying a kite during a thunderstorm, the American, Henry George (also called Thorstein Veblen), discovered the law of diminishing returns, and then, boy, the fat was in the fire! Before you could say "knife" the Industrial Revolution was on! Mechanization and steam power resulted in prodigies of production. For example, before the Industrial Revolution, a Welsh artisan, named Dylan Sigafos, used to make horse-shoes by hand at the rate of four a day. After the Industrial Revolution, with the aid of a steam engine, Sigafos was able to make entire horses!

And so it went—factories rising from the plains, cities burgeoning around the factories, transport and commerce keeping pace—until today, thanks to economics, we have smog, recessions, and economics textbooks at $7.50 per copy.

The makers of Philip Morris are no economists, but they do understand supply and demand. Some people demand filter cigarettes, so they supply the finest—Marlboro, of course! Great flavor, improved filter—a lot to like!

SJS Falls to Wheaton, 52-46

Crusaders Prove Tough for Cagers

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Fighting right down to the wire, San Jose State's basketball squad fell to Wheaton College of Illinois, 52-46, last night in Spartan Gym before an estimated 2000 fans.

The Spartan quintet trotted off the court at the end of the first half with a 22-18 lead over the unbeaten Crusaders. The victory was the sixth for the Wheaton squad.

Ned Fitzgerald was high point man for the Spartan hoopsters with 13.

Mel Peterson was the top marker for the game. The Wheaton 6-4 forward notched 19 points, along with a brilliant rebounding game.

San Jose State, led by Arney Lundquist on the backboards, totaled 59 rebounds to Wheaton's 56. Lundquist pulled down 17 of them.

At the start of the second half, Wheaton College, rated as one of the top small-college basketball squads in the nation, ran up 12 points to only two for SJS. This scoring spurt put the Crusaders ahead of the Spartans, 30-24, where the Illinois team remained the remainder of the game.

Bill Gerig, Wheaton guard, opened the second stanza with a 25 foot set-shot, SJS' Al Andreas countered with a 12 foot jump shot. But then Wheaton caught fire and scored four field goals and two free throws in rapid fire.

During the first half of play, The Spartans were outplaying the Crusaders and Walt McPherson's cagers could taste an upset in the offing. But as the second half got underway, the Wheaton squad started playing as a top rated ball club should play.

The fast breaks thrown by Wheaton seemed to take some steam from the SJS squad as the game wore on.

With 9:50 left in the first period, San Jose State was enjoying a 14-7 bulge. Fitzgerald, Spartan jump-shot artist, had piled up half of the 14 before the Crusaders could set themselves for the hustling cagers from SJS.

During the first half of action, Lundquist was outplaying Wheaton's center, 6-7 John Dobbert.

The Spartan basketball squad is improving as the season gets underway.

As McPherson, and most observers believed, the green Spartan ball club is making the best of its mistakes and cashing in on the experience gained.

The Gladiator

by LOU LUCIA

Humorous, sad, light side, dark side, twisted and middle ground quotes make up the gist of today's column.

Football Coach Bob Titchenal upon query if any of the footballers have received pro offers grabbed a fistful of letters from NFL clubs and said, "Even the team's manager received one."

And who says that the pros leave stones unturned.

Walt McPherson, basketball mentor, while speaking of an opposing player, "I don't see how he can be playing ball for them, his grades aren't good enough to allow him to attend Agnew."

We thought one player was "dogging" it on the courts, but McPherson said, "He's sure a hustler. It's just that he doesn't know where to go. We're so inexperienced that it may appear some ball-players aren't trying but actually they don't know what to do with themselves on the court."

Nan Baratini, Spartan Daily reporter, bet an unsure footballer that he wouldn't fumble the opening kick-off. He didn't and will catch Nan's air mail bill just as easily. Incidentally, his name is Pete grades aren't good enough to allow him to attend Agnews."

Moral: Don't bet against potential All-Americans.

One who knows stated, "We can't offer what the larger schools do and as a result are mostly competing with the schools in our category while playing those who offer more."

One basketballer reported that a former All-League JC player was contemplating attending SJS. He contemplated attending SJS. He was offered more at a smaller college and attends there now. One of the grants he received was a longer sized bed.

Whether or not he also receives sleeping tablets is a moot question.

While Stan Freberg bemoans a "Green Christmas," Frank Sinatra croons a "White Christmas" and Elvis Presley groans a "Blue Christmas." The Gladiator would like to wish all a "Black Christmas" by making the right bets in the bowl games and not ending up with a "Red Christmas!"

Three SJS Matmen Win Titles

In the Open division Leroy Stewart captured the 147 lb. championship. Bill Sickles and Nick Sanger captured the 191 lb. and heavyweight titles respectively.

Spartan grapplers placed second in total points in the Open division and third in the Frosh division.

San Francisco Olympic Club captured the Open division championship with 67 points. SJS had 56 points. Modesto Olympic Club won the Frosh division with 66 points. Cal placed second with 49 points, with SJS third with 47.

Freshman Spartan grapplers captured three titles in the Frosh division. Dave Nevies captured the 130 lb. title while Jeff Bryant was victorious over his Cal opponent in the 147 lb. class. Fred Ruprecht topped the heavy division with a tight decision over Fred Grose (Modesto).

Results:

Third place finishers in the Open division were Pete Berman, 167 lb. class; and Bernie Slate, 177 lb., and George Hewitt. In the Frosh division Dick White won the 130 lb. title with Jeff Kolling triumphant in the 157 lb. bracket.

Fourth place finishers were: 137 lb.—Dick Alderson Open division; 157 lb.—Jim Wittenberg Frosh division.

Summer session registration reached an all-time SJS high in 1958. During the six-week session, 6468 individual registrations were recorded.

Two SJS Gridders Drop from College

Jim Wright and Ernie Ibarra, members of San Jose State's grid squad, recently dropped out of college for "financial reasons."

Both men were tackles and had one year of eligibility left. According to Registrar's office personnel, the Spartan footballers have no intention of returning to SJS. Ibarra is married and the father of a girl, while Wright is single.

Wright, 6-3 and 230 lbs., was majoring in engineering before he withdrew from college. He was a starter for the Spartans throughout the '58 season.

Ibarra, 6-0 and 228 lbs., gained J. C. All-American recognition while he was playing for City College of San Francisco in 1957. All six of the tackles on the SJS grid squad were juniors.

Whitney Reed, nationally ranked netter who will play on the San Jose State varsity this year, has twice won the California State Amateur title.

"Get rid of Spark Plug 'Miss'—greatest cause of power loss. Put your car next to the New White Pump"

TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

WHY SETTLE for "part-time" performance from your car? Why put up with lazy power on hills, on get-aways? Instead, drive up to the new white pump at your Shell Dealer's and fill up with Super Shell with TCP. TCP adds anti-miss to anti-knock.

Spark plug "miss" is the greatest cause of power loss today! It can rob you of 20 to 30 horsepower.

This "miss" is caused by harmful deposits that short-circuit the spark plugs—keep them from firing the fuel charge. But TCP additive neutralizes these deposits, stops misfiring and restores lost horsepower.

And don't forget that new Super Shell contains aviation fuel ingredients that give it higher octane for anti-knock—extra energy for better mileage.

So with anti-miss, anti-knock, and better mileage, too—doesn't it make sense to get Super Shell.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research.

Society To Hear Panelists Discuss Chem Engineering

Three representatives from Food Machinery and Chemical Corp. will be guest panelists at tonight's meeting of The Society of Chemical Engineers. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in E119.

Discussing various aspects of chemical engineering will be Quentin Woods, assistant division manager, Frank Hickey, research division manager, and Dr. Harold Adams, food technologist.

The Society of Chemical Engineers is a newly formed group of chemical and chemistry engineering majors whose main object is to promote further interest in the field of chemical engineering.

Officers of the society are Randall Victory, president, Ron Stevenson, vice president, and James Citti, secretary-treasurer. Advisers are Dr. Allen N. Smith, associate professor of chemical engineering, and Robert F. Clothier, associate professor of mechanical engineering.

Positions To Close For Frosh Camp

Friday is the deadline for students to apply for positions on Freshman Camp Committee, according to Pat Means, director.

Applications can be obtained at the receptionist's desk in the Student Union. Committee positions are open to all previous Freshman Camp counselors.

Freshman Camp is held the weekend before registration in September. Purpose of the camp is to help incoming students become acquainted with SJS regulations and traditions.

Education Society Plans Yule Fare

Delta Phi Upsilon will hold a Christmas party Thursday at the home of Elaine Gilpin, recording secretary.

Members of the national honorary education society are making hostess aprons to sell for a money-making project.

Christmas cards were sent to faculty members in the Education Department and to alum chapters of Delta Phi Upsilon.

Daryl Maguire and Dr. Mary Ellen Durrett, associate professor of home economics, were initiated into the group recently.

Education Group To Sell Popcorn

Popcorn will be sold Wednesday and Friday in the Outer Quad by members of Alpha Chi Epsilon, education society.

The group made Christmas tree favors for the day school nursery on campus at the group's last meeting, according to Nancy Lebkicher, president.

Major Parties Organize For Opening of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic and Republican forces in the nation's capital are organizing for the 1959 session of Congress opening next month.

A band of rebellious Liberal Republican senators have decided to make an all-out fight to win all five Senate GOP leadership posts and wrest control from the conservatives.

Their decision apparently set the stage for the heated intra-party fight when the Senate convenes next month.

Sen. George D. Aiken (Vt.) said the liberal bloc would put up a candidate for the leadership post vacated by Sen. William F. Knowland (Calif.), as well as candidates for party whip, chairman of the GOP conference, conference secretary, and chairman of the policy committee.

Aiken said some of the liberal candidates might not differ from those presented by the conservative group. But he said they would be "Representative of the Republican party as shown by the voters in the last election."

Liberal House Democrats have pledged their support to speaker Sam Rayburn but agreed to demand a change in House rules to give them more of a voice.

"This very definitely is not a revolt movement," said Rep. Frank Thompson, Jr. (D-N.J.), spokesman for the group, after a closed luncheon meeting.

The Liberal Democrats claimed before the session that Rayburn is giving serious thought to the probability that conservatives would seize control of legislation unless their power in the Rules Committee is cured.

General Shepard Reviews Cadets At Parade Today

Maj. Gen. Whitfield P. Shepard will review San Jose State's Army ROTC Corps of Cadets at a parade this afternoon at 2 on the Women's Athletic Field.

Maj. Gen. Shepard now retired, will join Lt. Col. Edward S. Robbins, professor of military science and tactics, in the reviewing party. Dean C. Grant Burton will be the third member of the group.

Prior to the review, Gen. Shepard will address upper division cadets in HE5 at 12:30. The general was head of the joint military mission to Turkey in 1954.

Newman Club Party

Newman Club will present its annual Christmas Pageant tomorrow night at Newman Hall, following the 8:30 p.m. meeting.

After the performance the group will sing carols and refreshments will be served.

The club will go to Dodge Ridge for its ski trip Dec. 29 and 30 and will stay at Berhaus.

I.A. Club Display Ends Friday

Lamps, book cases and salad bowls, products of the toil of Industrial Arts Club members, will be displayed in San Jose Public Library through Friday.

Approximately 25 exhibits make up the display. All work on them was done by students in the Industrial Arts Club. According to Thor Johnson, club member, the club offers membership to any student taking a course in the IA department. It is not necessary to be an Industrial Arts major.

The Public Library staff requested the display, and will leave it up until Friday.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

Four field goals in one game by a man who'd never kicked one before! Bobby Conrad himself said, "I never kicked a field goal in high school or college. In fact, I never even tried." But the amazing Texas A&M back broke two All Star records by booting four three-pointers, including one for 44 yards, as the 1958 college stars upset the Detroit Lions, 35 to 19. Conrad is now a Chicago Cardinal.
